

This form is in two parts.

Step 1: Information only

Step 2: Can be used for consent form wording when there is the requirement of photography in a study.

Step 1 – Information to be included in the Participant Information Sheet

Photography for research purposes – non-identifying

1. The Participant Information Sheet must state that ‘photographs will be used for research purposes only.’
2. If photographs are to be taken these need to be non-identifying unless consent has been received from the participant approving the photographic release, per the below.

Photography for research purposes - identifying

1. Consent form title to read ‘Consent Form/Photography Release’.
2. The following section to be included on the consent form.
3. If a study makes full facial photos obligatory, a ‘no’ in the bottom box will exclude participation in the study.

Step 2 – Consent Wording - Photography Release

Once publication has occurred there is further control available to the researchers; the images will be in the public domain. Thus, the revocation clause has a very narrow window of application.

I, the undersigned, voluntarily consent to the taking, copyright, publication, and use of my picture (my face may be identifiable) and likeness by (<<Insert Drs Name>>).

Please check the appropriate “Yes” or “No” box below in order to indicate what you will allow your photographs to be used for. Once publication has occurred the images will be in the public domain, and thus you will have a very narrow window for revocation of consent.
